

Aurora Mazzoldi — Quick Profile

Symbolist and introspective painter

A symbolist figuration that investigates interiority through gesture, color, and narration.

Aurora Mazzoldi's work unites ethics and aesthetics: titles as keys of interpretation, bodies as mirrors of the soul, light as a metaphor of transformation.

Poetics & Themes

Her research explores human relationships, emotional dynamics, and archetypes through a symbolist figuration characterized by ethereal backgrounds and titles as interpretative keys.

Objective: to engage the viewer in an introspective and ethical reading of the image.

Selected Exhibitions

- 2016 — University of Trento, Department of Sociology — talk and solo exhibition (AMACI).
- 2014 — Castello del Buonconsiglio (Trento) — solo exhibition + talk (AMACI).
- 2014 — Rome Triennale — Tiltestetica, Editoriale Giorgio Mondadori.
- 2013 — Museo Bellini (Florence) — mini solo show + book presentation.
- 2011 — Museo Roca (Buenos Aires) — Premio de Honor.
- 2007–2008 — Agora Gallery (New York) — two thematic group exhibitions.

2017–2021 — As co-founder of Osservatorio Interiore a.p.s., she continued with conferences and exhibitions on Introspective Art.

Currently, alongside painting, she pursues writing (short novels inspired by her paintings Possession, Oppression, The Game, soon to be published on Amazon) and podcasts on psychology and introspective art.

Online and Public Engagement

Editor and author of the Introspective Art sections on OsservatorioInteriore.com and Introspectivity.com, consolidating the dialogue between pictorial research, psychology, and critical reflection.

Recognitions & Presence

- Publications as author: three books of fiction and essays on Art and Introspective Psychology.
- Critical reviews: numerous curatorial texts published by art critics and journals.
- Online presence: works and profile documented also on Wikipedia and Wikimedia Commons.

More Information

 auroramazzoldi.com

 auroramazzoldi@gmail.com